AT A GLANCE

Drive around historic downtown Zephyrhills on any day, and you quickly understand the town's idyllic appeal. Friends young and old chat on sidewalks outside the town's quaint, locally-owned shops and restaurants. On weekends, community events lure residents to the downtown area for a plethora of family-friendly events. Turn north on Gall Boulevard-U.S. 301, which bisects Zephyrhills, and you roll past dozens of thriving local businesses. You pass the sprawling grounds of Florida Medical Clinic, as well as the scenic campus housing Florida Hospital Zephyrhills.

Within minutes, both sides of the road are highlighted by modern shopping plazas with a healthy mix of national chain retailers and bustling local businesses. Gradually, the landscape returns to the low, rolling hills dotted with orange groves and green pastures that have been a part of the area since the town was known as Abbott in the 1800s. Much of Pasco County, where Zephyrhills is situated, was once a rancher's paradise, and develop-able acres remain abundant.

Look south, and you may witness something at first confounding, yet strangely serene. What looks like colorful confetti floating slowly from the sky are actually parachutes descending on Skydive City, a destination for skydiving enthusiasts from around the world, and Florida's No. 1 drop zone.

Zephyrhills Municipal Airport (ZPH), which has served the city since 1927 as a WWII training facility, has grown into a key player in the area's economic future. A former president of the United States and other high ranking officials have flown into ZPH. In an 18-month study by the Federal Aviation Administration, Zephyrhills Municipal was designated as an airport with a regional economic impact, one of only 20 airports in the State and 467 nation-wide. ZPH covers 813 acres and is base to nearly 200 aircraft, 13 businesses and over 160 aircraft hangars. A statewide economic impact study of airports in Florida, completed by the Florida Department of Transportation Aviation shows Zephyrhills Municipal Airport generates over $25 million economic impact to the region.

TRANSPORTATION

Thanks to a plethora of travel and shipping modes that practically frame Zephyrhills, the city finds itself in a strategic position for any business seeking to maximize its local, national and global potential.

Highway and Interstate Located in east Pasco County, Zephyrhills is bisected by U.S. 301, a major north-south thoroughfare, and is minutes away from several other major highways, as well as a thriving rail line. In Florida, U.S. 301 is a popular shortcut from the northeast portion of the state to the Gulf Coast. U.S. 301 extends from Florida north to Delaware, cutting through Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Interstate 75, another major north-south artery, which runs through the center of the county, is about 15 minutes west of Zephyrhills via State Road 54. Recent improvements on S.R. 54, including the addition of travel lanes, have dramatically decreased drive times.

Interstate 275 creates an apex with I-75 at the Pasco-Hillsborough line; about 20 minutes from Zephyrhills, I-275 runs southwest, taking motorists past Tampa International Airport and St. Petersburg-Clearwater International Airport en route to St. Petersburg and its white, sandy beaches.

Connecting Tampa to Orlando is Interstate 4, about 20 minutes south of Zephyrhills via U.S. 301. An east-west highway, I-4 runs from I-275 in Tampa to Interstate 95 in Daytona Beach. I-95 is the main highway on the East Coast of the United States, running along the Atlantic Ocean from Florida to Maine.

Rail Running just east of Zephyrhills is the CSX railroad. In 2010, CSX Transportation handled nearly 1.1 million carloads of freight through Florida; that year, the company invested more than $490 million on freight cars and other assets to serve its customers. Products shipped include phosphate rock, coal, phosphate fertilizer and passenger vehicles.

Air Located about a mile from downtown Zephyrhills and situated on 813 acres is Zephyrhills Municipal Airport. The airport features two asphalt runways and is the focus of local and regional developers as corporate and industry growth presents opportunities for regional economic modernization and expansion of services. The Airport is a convenient 20-minute drive from the booming Wesley Chapel and New Tampa centers. Less than 50 minutes southwest of Zephyrhills is Tampa International Airport. The airport serves more than 70 non-stop destinations, including flights to Canada, Mexico, Switzerland and the United Kingdom. Other airports within 90 minutes of Zephyrhills are Orlando International and St. Petersburg-Clearwater International.

Sea The largest sea port in Florida is the Port of Tampa, about 45 minutes southwest of Zephyrhills. Bulk and tanker ships regularly pass through, but the majority of vessels at the port are general cargo ships. The port is currently connected to prominent container ports in Asia. CSX rail, US 301 and Interstates link Zephyrhills industry and distribution centers to this gateway to international trade routes.

Dear Business Executive and Site Selector:

The City of Zephyrhills has a proud heritage of providing forward-looking economic opportunity to prospective businesses considering a place to call home. The City's mission statement recites this tradition by emphasizing that Zephyrhills "encourages economic growth and development."

We have witnessed the birth and nationwide expansion of multiple corporations that started right here in our backyard. The Zephyrhills Brand Bottling Plant and Goin' Postal, Inc., are just two shining examples of what can happen when determination, innovation and a strong sense of community collide. The City fosters success and endeavors to maintain a strong relationship with our local business leaders.

The Zephyrhills Brand Bottling Plant has remained in Zephyrhills because of the profitable business environment our community provides. They frequently collaborate with the Greater Zephyrhills Chamber of Commerce, the City of Zephyrhills, Main Street Zephyrhills, Inc. and Pasco County to promote economic development in the region.

Goin' Postal, Inc. is yet another Zephyrhills success story. Founded in 2002, they specialize in retail shipping and handling. Goin' Postal, Inc. has grown from a single Zephyrhills location to having hundreds of locations nationwide. They are consistently outpacing all of their big name competitors with their pattern of aggressive expansion.

Zephyrhills not only provides a great community for businesses and employees, but is also perfectly situated to meet the logistical needs of any type of operation. The City of Zephyrhills has affordable land, railroad access, multiple easy access roads to the Port of Tampa, a state of the art airport and a wonderful industrial

Dear Business Executive/ Site Selector:

Few businesses are fortunate enough to find that the best place to locate their operations is also the ideal place to call home. That's the rare blend we have here in Zephyrhills, and I know you can benefit from the same combination in this special community.

The Zephyrhills Brand bottling plant originally came to Pasco County because that's where the source of our natural spring water is located. But one of the important things that have kept us here is the outstanding and dynamic business environment. We are proud to work hand-in-hand with the local Chamber of Commerce, the City of Zephyrhills and Pasco County as part of a community of good neighbors and good partners.

This area has so much one could want, for businesses and their employees alike. State and local government have been working diligently to eliminate unnecessary regulations that hamper economic development, and the area sits along several major transportation corridors. Pasco County's property tax rate is among the lowest in the flourishing Tampa Bay region, the schools rank highly in the State of Florida and there is no personal income tax. Ours is a county that features both laid-back country living and bustling suburban communities, all within a convenient drive to big-city amenities. And of course, there is the magnificent Sunshine State weather.

The Zephyrhills Brand bottling plant receives countless benefits from being located in this exceptional community. I invite you to take a serious look at joining us here.

Sincerely,
